The Catalytic Fund will host its third Beyond the Curb event April 24, this time in Bellevue and Dayton. The self-guided tour, which takes place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., will highlight a number of condos and private residences in the two cities.

Beyond the Curb kicked off in April 2015 in Covington, with another event in September in Newport. The tours help showcase the urban renaissance happening in Northern Kentucky's river cities — Bellevue, Covington, Dayton, Ludlow and Newport — as well as give tourgoers the inside scoop on the variety of living options in the urban core. A future event in Ludlow is to come later this year.

Tickets are $15 in advance and $20 at the door and are available here. Admission includes the behind-the-scenes tour of 10 properties in Bellevue and Dayton as well as month-long business discounts and free parking throughout the tour.

Tour goers can walk, bike or ride the route, which will start with registration at Manhattan Harbour, 1301 Fourth Ave., Dayton. Other properties included on the tour are WatersEdge (209 Eden Ave., Bellevue), condos at Riverpointe and a number of rehabilitated single-family residences.
